EXPRESS ASSUMPTION OF RISK (15.22.1) Shared Responsibility for Camp Safety

Parents/Guardians of Prospective Campers: Participation in sports activities requires an acceptance of risk of injury. Periodic analysis of injury patterns continuously lead to refinement in rules and regulations and other safety guidelines. However, to legislate safety via the rule book and equipment standards is seldom effective in and of itself. There are various safety concerns to be aware of. Some are regularly identified and addressed (i.e. heat illness and the administration of liquids frequently during basketball sessions). Other safety concerns remain as such due to the participant's questionable compliance with specified guidelines (i.e. wearing all protective equipment issued, proper footwear, etc.). Some may be less clearly identified (i.e. head and neck injuries, knee injuries) and therefore, prevention and protection are difficult.

At Hoops 101 Basketball LLC, we are making every effort to increase the participant's knowledge concerning rules and practices being employed to minimize risk of significant injury while pursuing the many benefits of camp activities. Moreover, as injury risks are identified, steps are taken to minimize the causes, where possible. We teach the latest in skill acquisition and technique as well as implement preventative injury measures such as warming up prior to vigorous activity, stretching and fluid replacement; realizing that all of these measures have the potential to lower risk of injury. Even with these efforts, a certain number of injuries will occur. The participant and supervisors have a mutual need for an informed awareness of the risks being accepted and for sharing the responsibility for controlling those risks.
